QUIZ DAY WITH PHILIP WHITE AS QUIZ MASTER

Quiz Day came and went with our quiz master, Philip White, selecting ten questions appropriate to his audience.

Starting with condoms, moving on to the French word for sexual rubbing, the speed of ejaculation and the most popular sexual position, most tables could get six, sometimes seven, and to win, eight questions right, teamwork was the key.

With additional questions based on low-frequency vocabulary, Chukka, a period in Polo, bauxite mined for aluminum, and prehensile in relationship to an elephant's ability to control its penis, most groups seemed to have interesting conversations as to what the answers could be.

Hailey's Comet and Dirty Martinis, needs olive brine, also added to the mix of questions Philip prepared.

The Quiz Masters

As with most contests of this sort, team strategy played a significant role. Were answers voiced quite loudly by one or two groups reflecting unbridled excitement at knowing the right answer and as such sharing it a bit too loud, a faux pas, or was it a carefully laid trap to trick other teams into selecting wrong answers.

I do not think we will ever know the truth, but it should provide an interesting topic of conversation during upcoming meetings as to whether it was excitement or nerves, what with the pressure of being able to walk away with the bragging rights as winner of the 2018 Rotary Club of Bangkok South Trivia Contest.

Fortunately, we have a picture of the winning team so they can bask in their moment of fame.

All-in-all, it was a great contest, although it did end on a somewhat cheesy note, with a tie between two groups needing to guess the origins of two cheeses, with both getting buffalo milk correct for one, but one wrong for the other group. I guess living in Thailand, we have lost touch with one aspect of Western culture, the origins of cheese.

Well done Phillip, hopefully we will have a rematch next year.

KIDS' DAY OUT 2018 – SHREWSBURY STUDENT REACTIONS

This is the effect Kid's Day Out had on them:

Thanya Fox 11BA

The most amazing thing on the Kid's Day Out was forming a close relationship with a little girl. I could tell how excited she was to be here and find a buddy, which made me feel like I had done something amazing for somebody.

Lucas 11BA

It's one thing hearing about how amazing this day is but it's another thing actually experiencing it. A truly unforgettable day that will forever remain in my heart.

James 11HM

Life should be cherished as these kids live their lives to the fullest despite their condition. They don't use their circumstances as an excuse and do things for themselves. I find this amazing and admirable.

Benny 11HM

I feel I gained a greater understanding that even if we may look or behave differently we all feel the same emotions. We ALL had FUN.

Georgia 11KS

Once you step out of your comfort zone and really get involved with the kids, you realise how amazing and brave they are and you have so much fun just hanging out. Even if there was a language barrier, we communicated with smiles. J

Kazuki 11BA

I now feel very grateful for who I am and what I have. It was an amazing experience seeing the people smile and have such a great time with each other. It was something I will never forget throughout my life.

Deva 11KS

The most amazing thing on the Kid's Day Out was the overwhelming sense of gratitude for each other and the emotional connection between these kids and us that could not have been replicated simply by passively donating money to these children.

Jeremy 11HM

I gained a bigger perspective towards people with disabilities.

Prae 11HO

They are people who have great spirits.
